U. S. Strikes Back at Defaulters; to Forbid New Loans

Senate Passes Bill Prohibiting Handling of Foreign Securities

PENALTIES SEVERE

Only R. F. C. Is Exempt in Its Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Eighteen foreign governments wholly or partly in default on their war and post-war debts to the United States learned from senate action Friday that they must pay up or go without future private credit from this country.

Without a roll call and after only brief discussion, the bill of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, prohibiting new financial dealings with the defaulters, was re-passed and sent to the house. Amendments making the measure satisfactory to the administration were approved.

House sentiment was said to be equal to the senate in favor of the retaliatory proposal.

Exempts RFC
Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic chief, said the measure would apply to all defaulters, but that under one amendment suggested by the State Department and approved by the senate, government corporations like the RFC agency could make loans to all defaulters, including Russia.

Under the amendment exempting American government corporations from the restrictions, the Treasury could carry on its currency stabilization operations by purchasing or selling foreign exchange and securities.

Among the 18 governments affected are France, which is in default on $22,000,000 of its approximately $4,000,000,000 war debt and all the "token" payers, including Great Britain, which had $176,000,000 overdue against her last month on her debt of $4,600,000,000.

The total in default under the war debt fundings agreements on January 4 was $204,000,000. Unfunded indebtedness includes the $337,000,000 Russian debt, $20,000,000 from Armenia and $116,000,000 from Nicaragua.

Senator Robinson interpreted the bill as providing that any government which hereafter makes the payments due on her obligations to the United States would be permitted to float securities here or to receive private loans.

The measure originally passed the senate January 11, but Democratic leaders were absent and secured reconsideration. Since then conferences resulted in the modifying amendments.

Pulitzer Quits as Press Code Head

His St. Louis Post-Dispatch Objects to Federal Appointment

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ralph Pulitzer, St. Louis publisher, Thursday night announced his resignation as NRA division administrator in charge of the newspaper and allied codes.

"I have resigned as division administrator of the NRA," he said in a statement, "because I feel that the opposition to my appointment by the American Newspaper Guild would cast doubt on my impartiality in any question concerning its members which might come before me."

"Another compelling reason for my resignation is that the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, of which I am a trustee and director, feels it is seriously embarrassed in either support of or opposition to the NRA and myself while I hold this appointment."

The Star gave these as W. P. 534 and W. P. 535.

On January 26 state CWA headquarters again wired the newspaper advising that its letter containing the serial numbers had been lost in the purchasing department at Little Rock.

The numbers were again furnished—and Saturday morning the complete bid quotations were received at The Star office.

The contract was awarded on a lump-sum bid covering 10 items ranging from broadcloth and print material, to buttons, thread and elastic.

CWA figures show that the bid of Gus Blass company covering prices on all 10 items was $75.74, against $78.14 for the lowest of the three Hope bidders.

However, the lowest Hope bidder was low on 6 of the 10 items, and the second lowest Hope house was low on 2 items. Gus Blass, although low on only 2 items, was low on the total tabulation.

X X X
In his letter to The Star Mr. Williams wrote:

At the time this bid was let, we were operating under a federal ruling that required giving the contract to the low bidder. We had no alternative but to give it to Blass. Since that time, however, on bids of less than $100, we are taking none except from local merchants in the county where the project originates. Under this ruling the local merchants are assured of the majority of the business as most purchases are under this amount.

Also, at the time of this contract we were bound by a lump-sum bid. Present regulations permit letting the bid item by item.

From Mr. Williams' statement, it appears that under present regulations Hope houses repeating the same bids as last month, would obtain contracts for eight of the ten articles in competition with the largest department store in the capital city.

DOLLAR STILL HIGH
French Sell Francs Frantically, But Exchange Soaks Them Up

By the Associated Press
The sweeping and unexpected advance of the dollar in terms of foreign currencies finally was reversed Saturday.

But it still held well above its new gold parity in terms of foreign currencies.

A fresh flurry of selling appeared in the French franc and other foreign exchange at Paris, but this was soon absorbed.

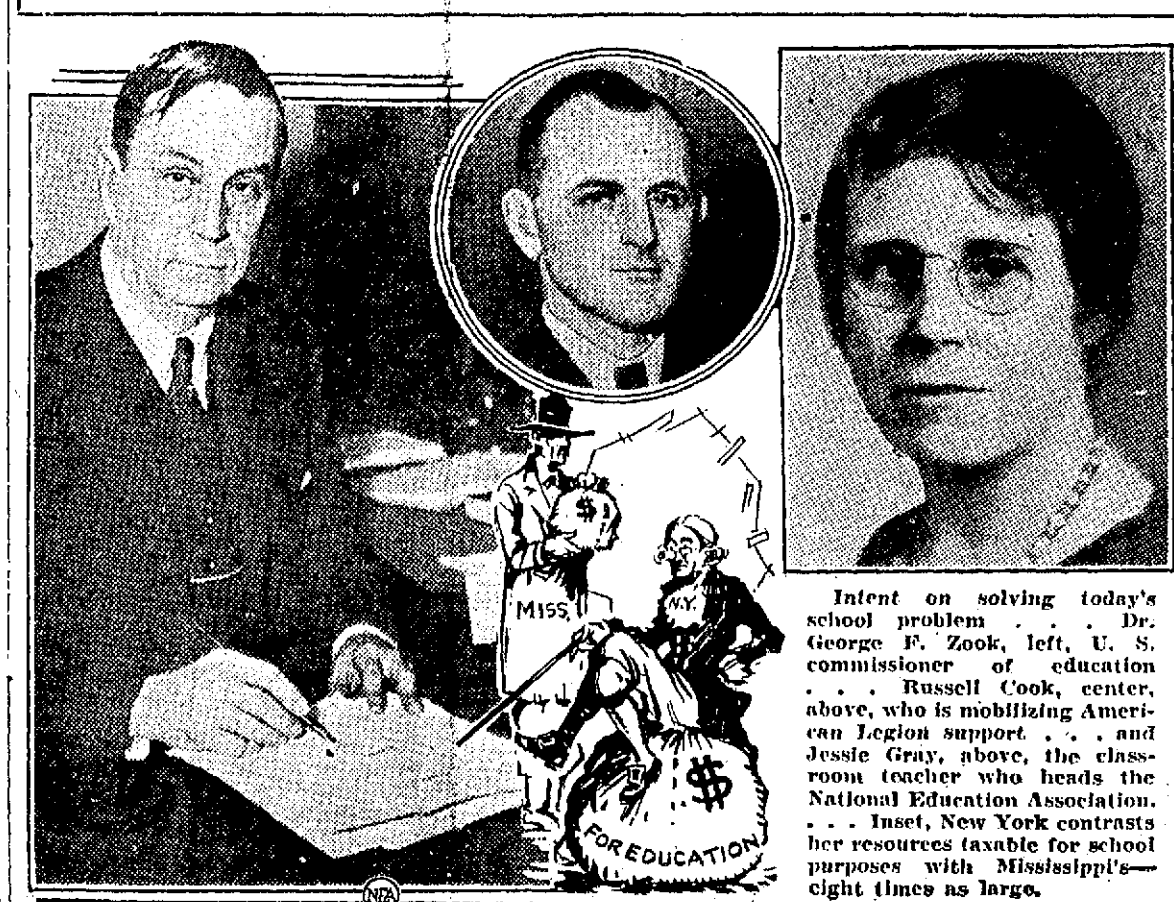

In terms of the franc the dollar is still at a premium of nearly 5 per cent, and at a premium of more than 2 per cent over the British pound sterling.

The securities and commodity markets again turned upward in New York and Chicago. Many stocks gained from $1 to $3 in the largest Saturday trading since last July.

Cotton gained 70 to 95 cents a bale, and wheat more than a cent a bushel.

On the Hope Cotton Exchange Saturday, New York March futures shot 70 cents a bale over Friday's close, up to 11:39 at the close for the highest this year, a gain of 14 points or

W. P. MacCracken, Ex Air Chief, Held

Senate Orders His Arrest to Obtain Data in Air Mail Contracts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—William P. MacCracken was arrested late Friday under order of the senate to come before it and give information he previously had refused to supply its air-mail inquiry committee.

The former assistant secretary of commerce was held for more than an hour in his office until the senate sergeant at arms, Chesley Jurney, agreed that MacCracken's attorney, Frank J. Hogan, might stand sponsor for his appearance before the senate on Monday when it reconvenes.

The order for the arrest of the man who was in charge of the aeronautics division of the commerce department in the Hoover administration also called for seizure of the files in his office. This was done. They will be held under guard until Monday.

In refusing to surrender to the air mail committee the records it had asked of him, MacCracken had argued that the information was the private and confidential property of aviation companies whose attorney he was. There was testimony later in the day, Chairman Black (D., Ala.), of the committee said, that some of these papers which the committee had sought had been destroyed.

In disclosing Friday night that Jurney had agreed for him to stand as personal bondsman for MacCracken, Hogan said telegrams had been received from all the aviation companies that MacCracken had represented agreeing for him to disclose the matters affecting them.

In accordance with this, he added, the records required by the senate would be delivered. Even as he spoke, investigators for the air mail committee and the postoffice department were going through the files in MacCracken's office and pointing out to Jurney what correspondence they desired.

Prosperity is coming again, Blair insisted, but it will be prosperity for all the people and not for a few. Competition will be fair, competition, but cut-throat competition is doomed, he said, when all men recognize their own responsibility.

About 80 Rotarians attended the dinner, besides the members of the host club there being present delegations from Texarkana, Hope, De Queen, Nashville and Prescott.

Millions Are Asked for Unpaid Teachers

Education of New Type Visioned by Leaders Gathered in National Capital

This is the third and last article of the series on "The Crisis in Our Schools," describing the disastrous effects of the depression on the American school system and the efforts that are being made to counteract this condition, restore teachers' wages to a higher level, and give every child a chance for education.

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Even before the organized drive on Congress for federal aid to the schools gets under way, several congressmen have realized the gravity of the situation and have presented bills for school relief which are pending.

Matthew A. Dunn, the blind ex-newsboy representative from Pittsburgh, has a bill which would appropriate money to pay all back salaries of school teachers.

Representative Fletcher B. Swank, who used to be a school superintendent in the old Indian Territory and has two sons of school age, has a bill to pay such back salaries and also to provide funds to maintain schools on their former basis.

Rep. D. D. Glover of Arkansas, who was himself a school teacher for 10 years, has a similar bill authorizing an RFC loan to communities to pay those back salaries.

And Senator Walter Franklin George of Georgia has a bill which would provide $3,750,000 a year from the federal treasury for promoting vocational education, especially along agricultural and mechanical lines.

Prompt Action Seen
So Congress has not been entirely overlooking the school situation, and it is expected that the united plan of the Committee for Emergency Aid will get prompt action.

Among other organizations, the American Legion has done some trail-blazing here, too. Through its national Americanization Commission, of which Russell Cook is director, the Legion has under way a plan for each post to name a committee to co-operate with local school boards and other school-sustaining organizations.

For posts which do good work in aiding their local school systems, the National Education Association has devised a citation which will be bestowed on those posts as a mark of appreciation for their efforts.

Legion Joins Fight
The Legion, which adopted at its Chicago convention a resolution stating that "education should not be made to bear a major part of the sacrifices for economy," has decided to fight for the schools under the slogan, "The security and perpetuity of this nation depends on the patriotic education of its youth."

The Office of Education in the Interior Department already has taken one step toward federal aid in the school crisis. The Public Works Administration has offered to give 30 per cent and loan 70 per cent of the cost of new school buildings, but only

Jury Is Complete in Poison Murder

State Opens Case Against Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean Saturday

GREENWOOD, Miss.—(AP)—The jury to try Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean on a charge of murder for the alleged poison highball death of Dr. John Preston Kennedy was completed Saturday morning after a six-day fight between opposing counsel over the talesmen.

The court was recessed following selection of the jury until 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the state was to open its case.

GREENWOOD, Miss.—While jonquills outside Leflore county courthouse burst into bloom under the warm Southern sun, lawyers for Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean, accused in the poison highball murder trial, gloomily cast the final die within the trial chamber, in their struggle for a jury.

They used the last of their 12 peremptory challenges Friday to eliminate J. S. Kent Jr., a planter of Rising Sun, Miss. Spectators had expected that the 33-year-old pediatrician's lawyer, exhausted by five days' jury struggle, would accept Kent, since only one seat remained to be filled.

White-haired Judge S. F. Davis held court open until 10:30 p. m. in hope that the jury might be completed.

As before, Dr. Dean retained the final word on talesmen. The pale, aristocratic young woman doctor is charged with slipping mercury poison into a libation that she handed her supposed intimate, Dr. John Preston Kennedy, last July. The popular surgeon was on the point of rejoining his blonde wife, Mrs. Bessie Barry Brunson Kennedy, who had obtained a divorce during the previous March, and who is expected to testify against Dr. Dean.

Friday's session was brightened by the return from Jackson of State Senator Littleton Upham, editor of the Greenwood Commonwealth, whose editorial snub of a New York newspaper woman at the trial has caused a furor.

The legislator, in view of 500 court room spectators, offered to "go in sackcloth and ashes and walk through the snow"—only there is no snow here—if that were necessary to appease her supposed indignation. Then he remarked that "now that I've seen the young lady, I'm perfectly agreeable if she wears even a bathing suit to court."

The Young Business Men's association announced Saturday the signing of a contract with Wayne P. Sewell Producing company of Atlanta, Ga., to stage a blackface minstrel here the nights of February 15 and 16.

A director of the company will arrive here within the next few days to start work on the minstrel. All characters cast in the show will be local amateur actors.

Title of the show will be "Dixie Blackbird Minstrels," which will be held in the city hall auditorium.

Gin Licensing Up to Farmers' Votes

Cully Cobb Awaiting Returns From Cotton Questionnaire

MEMPHIS—(AP)—Cully A. Cobb Friday predicted a long-time government cotton production control program calling for taxation of excess production in an address in which he pictured the Southern planter as headed towards a cash basis for the first time since the Civil war.

Mr. Cobb, chief of the Cotton Section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, said the present reduction program must merge into a long-time program of controlled production and that upon the votes of the farmers depends administrative action. Questionnaires sent out by the administration are on their way back to Washington.

"If they want control, we shall have it," Mr. Cobb said, "and if we have it, then it is my own feeling that it will take the form of a taxation measure."

Plans now existing, he said, do not reach the non-co-operators, and will not stand up under better prices. The program, he continued, should carry with it the principle of voluntary action. He added, however, that he believed "in the accepted Democratic principle that when a large majority

Dollar Devaluation Shows Surplus of Nearly 3 Billions

NEW YORK—(AP)—Professor Edwin Kemmerer, writing in the New York Sun, predicted Saturday that the cost of living will be more than double that of last November when the depression is over and the results of the Roosevelt administration's dollar devaluation have completely worked themselves out.

Kemmerer, monetary expert and professor at Princeton, foresees a general price level 118 per cent higher than last November's, and the cost of living 126 per cent higher.

U. S. Profit 2% Billions
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The dollar profit to the government of President Roosevelt's devaluation order was given Saturday by the Treasury as 2 billion 885 million 500 thousand dollars.

It wiped out the federal deficit, which stood Friday at 1 billion 922 million 598 thousand, and gave a surplus on the year's expenditures to date of 973 million 716 thousand dollars.

Unless Secretary Morgenthau should decide to use some of this profit to meet current expenditures, which he has said the Treasury does not plan to do, the year-end deficit will still reach the 7 billion dollars estimated by President Roosevelt.

Pacific Liner Hits Whale and Stuns It

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—(AP)—The Dollar liner President Taft, bound from San Francisco to New York struck a giant whale Thursday 1,027 miles northwest of Balboa.

"The impact was terrific," the liner's wireless operator messaged. "I thought we'd hit a rock. The boat trembled violently and the passengers all ran out on deck."

He said the whale appeared stunned after the shock and remained on the surface, forcing the President Taft to reverse and detour around it.

The Church Triumphant
These things shall be a loftier race than ever the world has known shall rise.
With flame of freedom in their souls And light of knowledge in their eyes. They shall be gentle, brave, and strong To pull no drop of blood, but dare All that may plant man's lordship firm.
On earth, and fire, and sea, and air. Nation with nation, land with land. Unarmed shall live as comrades free: In every heart and brain shall throb The pulse of one fraternity.
Man shall love man with heart so pure And fervent as the young-eyed throng Who chant their heavenly psalms before God's face with discordant song.
New arts shall bloom of loftier mould, And mightier music thrill the skies. And every life shall be a song. When all the earth is paradise.

Many Teachers Helped
The Federal Emergency Relief Administration is spending two million a month to give employment to other unemployed teachers, and nearly 40,000 of them owe their present employment to this agency.

They're teaching in rural schools which ran out of funds, instructing adults along vocational lines, and running nursery schools for children of unemployed.

There are plans on foot to combine instruction with such work as is being done by the Civilian Conservation Corps. Soon a teacher will be attached to each of the 146 camps under the name of "educational advisor," with broad discretionary power to develop within the camp any kind of library, recreational facilities, discussion groups, and practical training that he can devise with little facilities.

Income Tax In a Nutshell

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1934.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption and credits. Eight per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surplus on net income in excess of $9,000.

No. 6 Husband and Wife May File Joint or Separate Returns

Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a return of a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either spouse. For example, claiming $2,500 and the wife $2,500, where the taxable income of one spouse is $4,000 or more in excess of the personal exemption, it is to the advantage of the couple if such spouse claims the total personal exemption, the reason being the difference in the normal tax rates, which are 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions, credits, etc., and 8 per cent on the balance. The case of a husband whose net income was $2,500 and a wife whose net income was $2,500 is an example, the husband claiming the total personal exemption.

Net income, husband	$4,000
Personal exemption	2,500

we aren't," says Dr. Zook. "Out of the CCC may come a new idea of education for the boy who doesn't want or need the classical type of education, who wants to do practical work with his hands."
"It would have to be so devised as not to compete with regular labor, but yet be such as would supplement work of the CCC type with more thorough and permanent training."
"We also must make the school a center for oldsters as well as youngsters, make the school a sort of center of community life, night and day, and with teachers who really are vital partakers in the life of their communities, rubbing elbows daily with reality, and making all realize that they are not cloistered dreamers, but practical leaders in seeking all-round community development."

Chances are Unequal
Leaders in the move for federal aid here have shown in elaborate tables that while it is desirable that a certain minimum standard of education be maintained throughout the United States, nevertheless the ability of the various states and communities to furnish such a minimum standard is by no means equal.

Their figures show, for instance, that New York state has the potential ability to spend eight times as much for education as Mississippi, with no greater proportional strain on the taxpayer.

Yet it is certainly undemocratic and contrary to the American spirit to allow one set of children to begin life with an education eight times better than a set of youngsters from another section.

The proponents of federal aid argue that the federal government should insure a certain minimum standard, and then allow any communities that wish to do so to better that standard.

Waves of Criticism
The federal aid grants proposed at present do not imply any federal control over the kind of education supplied. They merely provide distributing the cash to the states, with the understanding that it be used by each state as its educational authorities deem most effective.

Jessie Gray, a practical Philadelphia classroom teacher who is president of the National Education Association, says what really is the last word in the present crisis of our schools:

"Rocketeers are costing five and a half times the cost of the public schools of the nation. With schools, libraries, recreation centers and night schools closed, we are courting disaster for our nation."

New Oil Made to Stand on Its Head

Standard Scientists Discover Something About Molecules

The process by which a new motor car is broken in by the motorist during the first 500 or 1,000 miles has been made more efficient, according to an announcement by scientists of the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, who have developed a new break-in oil which, by its ability to make molecules of oil stand on their heads when clinging to metallic surfaces, makes possible the efficient lubrication of all high spots on bearing surfaces and permits an automobile to be broken in as it is run under load.

Moreover, this new product insures the development of a perfect mechanical fit of the various moving parts of the automobile, thus improving its smooth operation and adding substantially to the potential life of the car.
"This new oil has resulted from laboratory studies of the molecular structure of oils," the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana technicians explained. "Sub-microscopically, oil consists of millions of disarranged molecules. When lubrication gets down to a thickness of only one molecule under extreme localized pressure, these molecules are flattened out, so to speak, and the lubrication job is not 100 per cent efficient. It was necessary to make these molecules stand on end. An oil molecule might be said to have a tail and a head. We wanted to find something that would make the molecules stand on their heads when clinging to the metal, rather than to have them lie flat on the metal surface. Through several years of chemical and metallurgical experiments we were able to develop a synthetic oil which, when added to a hydrofined low viscosity oil did just this to the oil molecules. This synthetic oil has a strong affinity for metals. Its accomplishments things that make lubrication enter upon a new phase."

This new break-in oil will shortly be available to the public. Not only will it permit an automobile to be broken in easily and with no annoyance to the driver, it will prevent corrosion, do away with seized pistons, scored cylinders and the other troubles which follow in the wake of an inefficient break-in.

Mae Forgot to Use National Password

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(AP)—Another Mae West story came to light here Friday night.

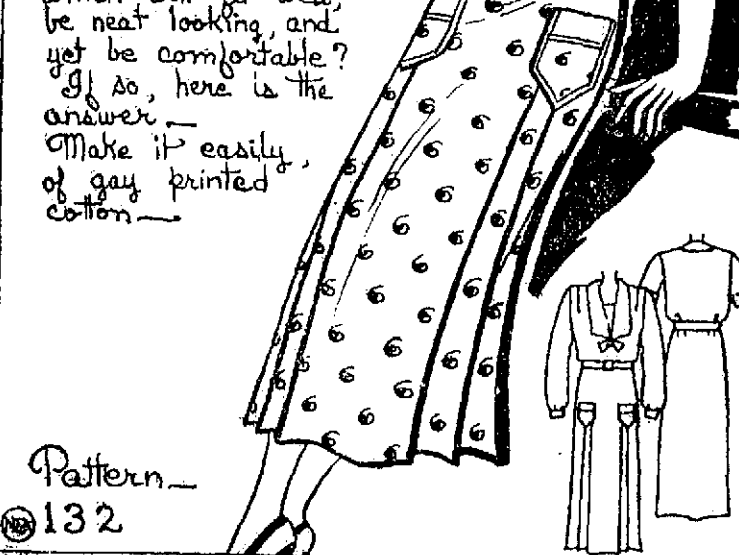

Clude Seaton, transport pilot, was telling about flying from Chicago to Kansas City with a lone woman passenger. As she became nervous flying alone, Seaton left the door between the control compartment and the passengers' cabin open and they chatted.

At Kansas City, after landing, news-men rushed up asking "Where's Mae West?"

"How should I know?" Seaton came back.

"You should; she was your passenger," was the reply.

"Well, how was I to know?" Seaton asked. "She didn't say anything about 'em up and see me some time.'" deed want a thing, the minority should not be permitted to stand in the way."

Mr. Cobb spoke before the final session of the Southern Agricultural Workers convention. He complimented Southern cotton farmers for their co-operation with last year's program and predicted that before the middle of February 1,000,000 farmers "will have signed on the dotted line another 'declaration of independence'."
"It is again my conviction," he said, "that we can look forward to the coming harvest season with an added feeling of security."
He said that since the Civil war cotton has been produced on credit and that has served "to enslave, to beat down and to destroy."
A payment of $50,000,000 to those who have signed contracts under the present campaign, he said, will go out in March and April—"$50,000,000 of production credit." In July and August, he added, another $50,000,000 will go out at a time it can be used to finance the harvesting of the crop. In December, he said, a third payment of $25,000,000 will be made when taxes and end-season debts are to be paid.
"The first two payments can be pledged," he asserted. "This makes $100,000,000 immediately available to finance current operations, a fact that will go far toward putting the South on a cash basis. Certainly that, together with the $50,000,000 in option checks received during the last two or three weeks, a long stride toward freedom from the oppressive practices of the past."

Deadlocked Jury Ends Touthy Trial

Mistrial Ordered After 25 1/2 Hours of Futile Deliberation

CHICAGO.—(AP)—The jury which Roger Touthy and two associates fled for the kidnaping of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, was discharged late Friday by Judge Michael Heiberg when it reported it could not agree on a verdict.

After deliberating 25 1/2 hours, exclusive of time out for sleeping and eating, the 12 crafts and tradesmen were called before the court and reported they were hopelessly divided. An hour earlier they said they stood "eight to four" leading courtroom observers to suppose that the majority favored conviction, in support of earlier rumors.

Prosecutor Wilbert Crowley announced "we'll try them again." The trial lasted 10 days.

Janet Gaynor Is Star of 'Carolina'

Lionel Barrymore and Richard Cromwell Also in Cast at Saenger

"The most important all-star cast assembled since 'Blue Fairy' is complete with the signing of two of the screen's most popular young leading men and the assignment of Fox Film's newest feminine discovery to 'Carolina.' The roster of stars is made up of Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Young, Henrietta Crosman, Richard Cromwell, Mona Barrie and Stepin Fetchit. The three most recently named were Robert Young, Richard Cromwell and Mona Barrie. Robert Young continues his ascent toward stardom that has been marked by outstanding performances in 'Saturday's Millions' and 'Today We Live.' By winning the star role opposite Janet Gaynor, Richard Cromwell, on the strength of his work in 'Hoopla,' plays his rival.
Mona Barrie, brilliant Australian actress recently discovered by Fox Film, won her role by her outstanding performance in 'Sleepers East.'
'Carolina' is based on the Theatre Guild stage success by Paul Green. It is said to afford Janet Gaynor the most dramatically emotional role of her career, and will be presented on a scale to realize the full sweep of this story of the new South. It opens Sunday and Monday to the Saenger."

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

It Isn't Safe to Guess About Pain in Abdomen

When you get a pain in the abdomen, you need not associate it immediately with indigestion or an attack of appendicitis. Of course, the pain may be due to either of these causes, and then again it may be due to any of a large number of other troubles.

You should remember that your abdominal cavity contains not only your stomach and intestines, but also the liver, the spleen, the kidneys, the pancreas, the adrenal glands, the gall bladder, the urinary bladder and, in the case of the female, the organs of sex.

Inflammations or infections of any of these organs may produce severe abdominal pain.

Whatever you do about such a pain, don't guess because some of these causes may be exceedingly serious.
